THE JOLLY CHRISTMAS GARDEN

Our house looks different after the long nights
 When father put up twinkling Christmas lights
 A garland on the door, a lantern upon the floor
 And a jolly fat elf in green stripy tights

A snowman in a sweater in the garden to see
 A family of reindeer with singing Wise Men – yes, all three
 And under our window, a machine blowing snow
 That wafts over a giant flashing Christmas tree

Stars strung in the garden with glittery fairies
 A penguin that honks when you give him a squeeze
 But looking through our glass, as bold as brass
 An inflatable Santa that bobs in the breeze

Father's happy as Larry as people do pass
 The children excited, kneel down in the grass
 They smile as they play, in the splendid display
 To one and all ... a Happy Christmas!!!!
